

Río de Janeiro

An aerial photograph of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, showing a long, curved beach with white sand and turquoise water. The city is built on a hillside, with numerous high-rise buildings and dense residential areas. In the background, several large, rocky mountains are visible under a blue sky with scattered clouds.

bote pequeño

A dramatic, stormy sea under a dark, cloudy sky. The water is turbulent with white foam and splashes, suggesting a boat's wake. The sky is filled with heavy, dark clouds, with a bright light source breaking through near the horizon, creating a stark contrast and highlighting the texture of the clouds and the churning water.
